Serve Yourself At The A. & P.

New System Now In Use —
Up-to-date Vegetable And Bakery Counter Racks Installed.

Customers at the Grimsby store of the A. & P. can now pick and choose from the goods on the shelves to their heart's content, as the store has been transformed into a self-service store.

New vegetable and fruit racks and new baked goods racks have been installed as well as a double tiered shelf stand, down the centre of the store. Other new shelving has also been erected.

From now on you do your own choosing from the shelves and check in your purchases with the lady at the check counter at the door, where you also pay for your purchases. This new system should prove a big time saver and be popular with the housewife.

Youth Rebellion At Trinity Hall

Grimsby Amateur Theatians
With Hollywood Aspirations
Will Present Play Tonight and Tomorrow Night.

There is Rebellion in Grimsby. This week at Trinity Hall the Trinity Service Club is presenting a full evening of fun called "The Rebellion of Youth." The girls of the Service Club have had many a good laugh at the comedy in the play and the audiences, this coming Thursday and Friday nights, are going to have as much fun.

The play deals with the way in which a mother, Mrs. Denton, shows her daughters what fools they are making of themselves living their own independent lives on a high artistic plane.

Auntie Nudge, the lovable colored mammy is highly disturbed by the carryings on of the family. Her opinion on modern dress and manners adds many a humorous touch. Alethea Snip, the local gossip spends half of her time trying to keep up with the latest activities of Mrs. Denton the other half of her time she spends spreading gossip.

All the characters are well taken and the plot is good, and audiences are assured of an evening of good entertainment.

Boys Overseas Relieve The Monotony Of Army Life By Playing Spectacular Games
Over Again.

The following letter from Major J. A. Bigger, overseas, tells its own story:

"D" Battery No. 3 C.A.R.U.,
10 November, 1943.

Mr. J. O. Livingston,
Grimsby Independent,
Grimsby, Ont.

Dear Bones:

Just a few lines to thank you for the "Independent" which I appreciate and enjoyed very much. It is a paper such as the Independent that we all like to receive, for it has newsy items about things and people that we know that are never mentioned in the larger circulated dailies.

Cigarettes Were Anniversary Gift

Mr. Lymburner Received His Last Lot On Third Anniversary Of His Arrival
Overseas — More Money Needed.

Thank you very much for 200 cigarettes received recently. They are greatly appreciated. Every day fine over here. Weather is well. Again "thanks a million." G. A. Silver.

This will acknowledge the receipt of 200 cigarettes for which I am very grateful. The kindness of the donor is very much appreciated and I would like to take this opportunity to thank you. Hoping

First Council Of The Village of Grimsby—1876

The above group photograph is an exact copy of the original that hangs in the Council Chamber. It was while gazing at this photo. that Reeve Lothian had the happy idea, at last Town Council meeting, of having all members of municipal council grow whiskers. The First Reeve of Grimsby Village, after incorporation in February 1876, was John H. GROUT, father of Mrs. Olive Berry, The Village Inn. He was the head of the J. H. GROUT Implement Works, at that time one of the largest concerns of its kind in the Dominion. Jas. S. Randall, first Village Clerk, was a Land Surveyor by profession. Miss Edna Randall is a daughter. Wm. "Squire" Forbes, was a large general storekeeper and Magistrate for this district. His property is that now occupied by C. P. Brown and others. E. E. Loosley was a merchant tailor. Beverly Robinson Nelles was a fruit grower and processor of fruits and vegetables. He constructed and operated for many years the present Canadian Cannery (Todd's) factory on Robinson street which carries his middle name. He was the first man in America to can corn. Edgar J. Palmer, father of Mrs. Mary Rosebrugh, was a general merchant, in the store now occupied by Chainway. It was in this store that the first telephone central in Grimsby was established. How do you think the present Town Fathers would look with hirsute adornment?

With R.C.A.M.C.

COL. GORDON A. SINCLAIR

When Grimsby's Own "Doc" Gordon sits down to Christmas dinner on December 25th, it will be his fifth Yuletide overseas in this war. Dr. Sinclair was a Major in the Hamilton unit of the R.C.A.M.C. in the peace time militia and immediately war was declared he enlisted for active service. He arrived in England with his outfit in December, 1939. Several Grimsby boys were with him. He received his promotion to Colonel over there and at present is in charge of very important medical work.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement, and also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. R. Case and family.

HITLER HAS COUNTERPART SOMEWHERE IN GRIMSBY

DOG POISONER AT LARGE

Every community, be it large or small, invariably has in its midst a few morons—with apology to the average mental patient of that specific category—that the village or town would be much better off without.

Here in Grimsby, the Town Fathers acting in the interest of those who cultivate gardens, and are fond of flowers, rightly passed legislation some years ago that prohibit our canine friends from running at large during six or seven months in the year. Although at times the owners of dogs may find this hard on their pets, yet, for the welfare of all, they are content to abide by the dictates of the Law, and at the same time look forward to the day, usually the first of November, when they can unleash their bow-wow and allow them the freedom of the town.

It has reached the ears of this Scribe that already two or three dogs have been poisoned since the first of November and likewise a number of other pets, by some individual and likewise a number of man or woman. If these people not worthy of the name of man or woman. If these people with a diseased mentality could witness the agony that a poisoned beast undergoes before it passes to a log or cat Heaven—it might; although I doubt it—cause them to be a little bit more tolerant and a little less sadistic in their actions.

Most all normal people have an affection for a dog that is based on many happy memories when they were a child. Most normal men and women resent any brute beast being abused and the degenerates that are using poison to effecting the speedy — by no means — but a slow and lingering death — of some dog, cat or other pet, may receive, if they are discovered, a little punishment that is not contained in the statutes of the Province nor mentioned in the pages of Blackstone.

Just A Farmer From Cayuga

GORDON A. HANNAM, genial
Mine Host of the Hotel Grimsby makes no bones about admitting that he was just a farmer from the Cayuga country when he came to Grimsby in 1927 and purchased the Hotel Grimsby. Since that time a marvelous lot of changes have taken place to that building, such as the new brick front, then the building out of the front of the upper story and the addition to the west side which has been held up by the war, the installation of baths in several of the bedrooms and many other improvements that would make old time patrons of the old Lincoln House wonder what had happened. Gordon is a live wire host for Grimsby and can be counted upon at all times to do his share for the furtherance of any progressive public project.

Awarded D.F.C.

Squadron Leader J. E. Snider, R.C.A.F., who has been recently awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, is a son-in-law of Mrs. Jas. W. Merritt, Nelles Boulevard, having married Miss Vivian G. Merritt.

Squadron Leader Snider is a Hamilton boy and on Tuesday last, arrived back in Canada for instructional purposes, this being the second time that he has been home from overseas since he first went over.

H. V. Bettner has purchased the Wilfred Greenfield house and lot at No. 8 Kidd avenue.

Nine Acres Sold On Murray Street

Councillor Bull Reports That
Town Is Just About Cleaned
Out Of Real Estate—Only
Fairview Lots Left.

Councillor Harry Bull, Chairman of the Property Committee, reports that he has disposed of nine acres of land on the east side of Murray street, to Mr. Dokkan of the E.D.H. Co., Ottawa and Grimsby.

Sometime ago Mr. Dokkan purchased the four and one-half acres at the lake end of Murray street, less 150 feet in depth, full width of the property, along the lake, which the town retained. Last week he closed a deal with Mr. Bull for the adjoining nine acres lying to the south of his original purchase.

The sale of this block of land practically put the Town out of the real estate business. They have left on their hands now only one or two lots in the Nelles Boulevard district and some lots in Fairview, which cannot be sold for building purposes until such time, after the war, that sewers can be constructed in this section.

Was Not Victim Of Foul Play

Wm. Vickers Died Of Natural Causes — Believed To Have Suffered Seizure.

It has been learned from official sources that William Vickers, 80-year-old North Grimsby township farmer, died from natural causes and was not a victim of foul play as at first suspected. There will be no inquest in connection with the death. Crown Attorney E. H. Lancaster, St. Catharines, has announced.

Mr. Vickers, who resided alone, was found in his home, blood-stained and unconscious and the room in which he lay gave the appearance of a struggle having taken place. Taken to hospital, he died a week later without regaining consciousness. A post-mortem, performed by Dr. W. J. Deadman, indicated that he had suffered a seizure and there was no sign of foul play.

Legion Holding A Big Poultry Bingo

Community Hall, Beamsville
Is The Place — Friday Night, December 3rd, The Date — Big Prize Drawing.

Under the magic wand of "Pep" Shepherd, the Beamsville Lightning Chaser, West 1, in Branch 127, Canadian Legion, are holding a Mammoth Poultry Bingo in Community Hall, Beamsville, on Friday night, December 3rd.

This Bingo promises to be a bigger affair than the one held last year and it was a whooper-dooper. "Pep" guarantees that all the turkeys will be Toms; milk-fed and the finest quality to be found in the province. There will also be plenty of chickens for prizes.

Besides the Bingo there will be a special big prize drawing for cash prizes. There are five prizes for $10 cash each and 10 prizes for $5 cash each. Tickets on the drawing are 25 cents each or five for $1. See any member of the Legion or the Lions Club and buy your tickets early.

It was Wed., Nov. 3rd, and probably was the

FACTS & FANCIES

THE EPIC OF FREE ENTERPRISE

This is an age of synthetics. We have synthetic rubber and any number of artificial materials which science has developed to take the place of the natural product, and we are told that many of them are just as good as, if not better than, the real thing, writes Lewis Milligan. These and numerous other inventions are the products of human ingenuity and enterprise, stimulated by industrial and commercial competition.

The motor car, the radio, airplanes, vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, washing machines and a host of modern mechanical appliances were invented and gradually brought to their present degree of perfection by the urge of competition and salesmanship. The incentive behind it all was the desire and the opportunity to produce something better than the product that was the market — to outdo the other fellow's product and to capture the business. That kept the other fellow from sitting back and enjoying a monopoly and urged him to try to go one better still.

That is free enterprise, and without it we would still be in the horse-and-buggy days. Many of our inventions were in the first place regarded as mere curiosities and scientific playthings. It was not until some enterprising business men realized their possibilities as profitable selling propositions that those playthings of science were developed and introduced as the necessities of modern life. They created the demand by advertising and salesmanship — high-pressure, if you like; but there is no progress without pressure.

When the history of the past fifty years of progress on the North American Continent comes to be written, it will be a great epic of free enterprise. It is beyond all question the most amazing period in human history. And it was a period in which human freedom prevailed as it never had prevailed before. It was no Utopia, and its people had no thought of establishing a perfect social and economic order. They were too busy and preoccupied with the intensity of living and making the best of the order in which they found themselves. They had no time for revolution or for theorizing and planning for the future. They obeyed the manly injunction of the people's poet, Longfellow:

Trust in future, how'er pleasant!
Lest the dead past bury its dead!
Act — act in the living present!
Heart within, and God o'erhead!

They did not fret and whine over the difficulties and struggle of life and demand that the government owed them an "opportunity" and a "living." Life itself was a trust and glorious opportunity, and the adventures of life were a challenge to their courage, ingenuity and enterprise. They were a free and self-reliant people. Life was a struggle, and they liked it. They wanted no regimentation, and to Youth they said:

In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of Life,
Be not like dumb, driven cattle,
Be a hero in the strife!

These lines of Longfellow may have become shop-worn and trite with us, but to the youth of the nineteenth century throughout the English-speaking world they were a clarion call to individual initiative. Many examples of individual heroism have been recorded during the present war, and there must have been a great many more of which we will never know.

As youth has responded to the call of war, so they will respond to the call of peace. But it must be a call to courage and not to fear. It was not the fear but courage that urged our forefathers and mothers to cross the seas and endure the hardships of pioneer life. If they had been afraid of the future they would never have entered upon that arduous adventure. They were self-reliant individualists.

Emerson, in his essay on "Self-Reliance," struck the keynote of American progress, when he said: "Trust thyself: every heart vibrates to that iron string." The cry today is, "Trust the Government — the politicians: they will take care of you from the cradle to the grave." Only the heart of a coward and an idler would vibrate to that fiddle-string.

EARLY HOLIDAY MAILING

It is important that you do your Christmas mailing as early as possible. The folks who ordinarily wait till a week or two before Christmas before buying and sending gifts and greetings, will cause great congestion of postal work if they adhere to this habit this year. A time of labor shortage is one in which it will be hard to get mail handled and delivered promptly.

Some people have always bought their gifts at a late date because, as they said, they did not have the money to buy the things before. This year, with national income greatly increased, regular work general, and many people getting big pay, it should be easier to buy earlier.

One would think most people could as well get their Christmas gifts within a very short time, and get them off promptly. Hard worked postal people would look at such a change as a godsend.

THE CIRCUS ERA

The circus era, as far as this part of Ontario is concerned, seems now to be a long way away. Away back to the horse-and-buggy days in fact, says The Seaford Express. But anyone over middle age can still remember the lure of a circus. Can still remember when at least one travelling circus would set up the Big Top in three or four of the largest towns in every country.

And, if memory has not completely failed, a good many can still remember the thrill of seeing the glaring posters so lavishly displayed over the countryside, and can still remember the thrill of anticipation that lodged in every boy's mind and completely absorbed his thoughts.

Memory, too, will lead them back to one of the great mysteries of that age. When they used to wonder greatly why fathers could be so easily convinced that attendance at the circus—including the whole family—was an educational and social feature of such magnitude that it should not be neglected. It was, it seemed, the only time in the year, that fathers were willing, and often eager to sacrifice their time and money to give the boys, and often girls, a real good time.

But while that era has passed us by in this part of America, the circus lure is apparently, just as strong as ever in the country south of the line. Because we noticed the other day that the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus wound up a 428 mile tour at Tampa, Florida, before going into winter quarters in the same State, after playing to a record audience this year of 4,270,000 people.

Roland Butler, general press representative, said the circus gave 374 performances in 57 cities, compared to performances in nearly one hundred cities last year, when some 4,000,000 people saw the Big Tops in operation. And, considering that gas restrictions are more severe in a great many American States than in Canada, and transportation facilities just as hard to obtain, these figures speak volumes for the strength of the circus bug in the human system.

Mr. Butler also estimated that the circus animals consumed 1,66 tons of hay and 17,810 bushels of oats while on tour. The elephants, he said, drank 535,000 gallons of water. The amount of pink lemonade consumed by the circus spectators is not given.

WOMEN PLAYING A MAJOR ROLE

With so many things happening so quickly these days few people stop to think about the really large part women are playing in the war effort, and they are doing a really grand job. There are now approximately 30,000 women in uniforms. It seems a lot but the figure looks small alongside the 255,000 engaged directly or indirectly in war industries, and another 400,000 doing work of a high priority nature.

But even these figures, large as they are are topped by the 830,000 farm women who are toiling the hardest of all for the nation and for the men they have sent overseas. Ever since their husbands, brothers or sons left the plows and donned uniforms they have been putting in long hours doing all kinds of hard jobs on farms where help has been all too scarce.

All along the line with manpower shortages growing ever more acute, women have been filling in, and are proving how well they can work. Now for the first time in the history of any army in the world Canadian women are staff officers and on an equal footing with men. In the CWAC's they are now "carrying on" in no less than fifty trades. In some of the larger centers women military police have been on duty for some time.

One of the newer jobs they have tackled is in the women's division of the RCAF where they do escort duty on trains and in large centers. There are women clerks in the RCAF who are keeping a check on the position and course of every aircraft, surface ship and submarine approaching Canada's Atlantic coast. So secret is their work that even its exact nature cannot yet be disclosed.

By the end of this year there will be 5,000 Wrens replacing various categories of naval personnel. And those in the nursing services must not be forgotten. There are now more than 2500 nurses in war uniforms of whom 170 are with the R.C.A.F. nursing services and 154 Royal Canadian Navy.

In one Nova Scotia shipbuilding yard 300 women are working as crane operators, acetylene welders, electricians, pipe fitters and other jobs. In Toronto in two of the large plants working on war orders 10,341 women are either making all the parts for quick firing weapons or checking and supervising.

Thousands of married women are working in munitions plants. No less than 45,000 women have been organized for civilian air defense work. And in addition to all these there is the army of tireless workers all across Canada working for the Red Cross, I.O.E. and Navy League.

FARMERS BEWARE

Remember the story of Little Red Riding Hood and the big bad wolf? It might be a good idea to read it again, thinks The Bowmanville Statesman — and then look closely about you today. Let us put the case this way:

An "Individualist" is a person who makes his own way, earns his living and the respect of neighbours, pulls his share in respect of community effort, asks no charity in good times, or bad, puts aside some hard-won dollars for old age and the children. A "Rugged Individualist" is a farmer with all the above qualities — and then some — a man who has won his land by the sweat of his brow and who will defend it to his last gasp. If you've got a better definition, then trot it out.

In the daily press of Oct. 27, 1943, we find these remarks in the report of a speech of E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario leader of the Socialist C.I.O., C.C.I., C.C.F., before the Electrical Appliance Dealers' Association in Toronto: "Today the rugged individualist is most likely to end as a ragged individualist" — and he called farmers to unite with his leftist laborites. Mr. Jolliffe was a Rhodes Scholar, is now a labor-lawyer quite unfamiliar with whiffletrees, stiles, spavies, roup, pip, garret, Bang's disease and torny-handed hard work. His prophecy for farmers, "raggedy farmers," is the most amazing confession ever made by a public man, for, NOTE THIS: he plans to form the next government in the Province of Ontario, and will deal with "Ragged Individualists."

In his confession he might have added these facts: "From 1926 through 1940, labor and farmers combined, took 74.2% of Canada's total national income, leaving 25.8% for all other groups." National partners you say? But wait! "Of the 74.2% labor got 62.3% and farmers just 11.9%. Look it up for yourselves in Government releases. Will the C.C.F. cut labor to the farmers' level? Will labor stand for that raggedy treatment? Get hep!

"Oh Grandma, how sharp your teeth are!"

Penned and Pilfered

Three times wounded, The Windsor Star tells of a soldier hit in the same place each time. As an officer he was hit in the abdomen, as a sergeant he was hit in the stomach, and as a private he was hit in the belly.

The Ottawa Citizen propounds a grave question for the Social Column. It asks: Why cannot we, too, have more realism in our wedding news? Like the Plattville, Wis., paper's description of the bride as "a perfect photograph of her father and phonograph of her mother."

THE WOMAN NEXT DOOR

Looks At Us, At Our Town, And Occasionally At The World

BY HOLLIS

Have You Mailed Your Dollar?

Have you mailed your dollar in the long envelope? Good! Now how about following it up with another dollar, for good measure?

All the money obtained in the Christmas Seal Sale Campaign is spent on the prevention of Tuberculosis in our own country and community. Over 300 new cases were uncovered last year, 121 of which were active and spreading disease.

Every dollar you invest in Christmas Seals pays big dividends. It is one small way in which we can honour the Founder of Christmas Day.

Dear Emily Post:

It would seem that the rule of a widow retaining the use of her husband's Christian name is about to succumb to public pressure.

Rule or no rule, many widows prefer to use, or rather insist on using, their own Christian name rather than that of their late husband, as Mrs. Anna Jones, not Mrs. Henry E. Jones. This they do as a means of indicating to all and sundry their changed status.

The custom has become so widespread and, when you think of it, seems so rational that we suggest the rule be amended by withdrawing the word "must" and substituting therefor the words "may either."

The Bride And The W.P.T.B.

The war is indeed beginning to strike home when the length of the bridesmaid's gown is set by law. Under the clothing regulations of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board only the bride may wear a long gown. Her attendants may not wear gowns longer than forty-three inches; that is, unless they purchased their gowns before the restrictions went into effect.

There doesn't seem to be anything in the ruling to prevent the girls borrowing the long frocks worn by the bridesmaids of April to October.

If the bride decides to claim her prerogative and wear a long gown it must be either cream or white.

Thanksgiving Day In The Good Old U.S.A.

To-day the traditional festival of Thanksgiving is being celebrated in the United States, and wherever all over the earth's surface good Americans get together.

While it is true that a day of Thanksgiving, immediately following their first harvest, was proclaimed by the governor of the little band of Pilgrims who landed at Plymouth Rock, and that national days of Thanksgiving were ordered on sporadic occasions thereafter, it was left to Abraham Lincoln to stabilize an annual day of Thanksgiving.

In 1864 President Lincoln appointed the last Thursday in November to be set apart to commemorate the cessation of hostilities in the Civil War and the preservation of the Union. This date was religiously adhered to until last year when President Roosevelt enacted that each state might appoint a day of its own choosing. As may be imagined the result of this ruling was not altogether satisfactory.

Meet The Family

Maybe you didn't come over with the U.E. Loyalists, but that shouldn't prevent you from compiling the records of your family. It is all the more contingent upon you to do so if you are lucky enough to belong to one of the "new" families, not more than one, or perhaps two, generations out from the homeland.

You can begin with a combination diary, scrapbook and snapshot album, and be sure to date everything, even to the hour. Be sure to record all arrivals and departures, both of humans and live stock. Put down the price you paid for the farm, and when the payments were made, and the big date when the deed was placed in your hands. How did you celebrate the occasion, for it should be celebrated, if only with a cake and candles, just like a birthday.

We know a member of one of the older families in this neighbourhood (they came over with the U.E.L.'s) who is energetically, systematically and untiringly searching out and putting together all the information she can uncover about her family in all its ramifications. The unearthing of one long-lost fact often brings to light a whole series of entertaining episodes occasioned by the intertwining of many family trees dating all the way from the Exodus following the War of American Independence right down to the present day.

The lady has already acquired by intensive research a valuable collection of data relating to her clan which we hope eventually to see in print. It is to be regretted that more of our local families do not follow her example. Too many valuable records of the early years of settlement in the Niagara Peninsula have been lost through indifference or ignorance.

Don't let a few black or grey sheep hanging on the family tree hinder you. They help to make history interesting, and besides, every normal family from Adam down has had its share of discoloured linen.

Song Migrants

Not with the clang of wild geese
Across a stormy sky,
But quietly at midnight
A migrant cloud goes by.

For overhead in darkness,
A sibilance swift and sweet;
Bobolinks, thrushes, warblers
Of wide-sung regions, meet.

From Labrador to Chili,
From sheltered nooks between,
They carry in their small, brave breasts
The flawless and unseen.

True compasses that guide them
To snowy tundra waste,
Or trim New England garden:
With neither fear nor haste.

Taking their flawless pathway,
On nature's forest floor;
A myriad-winged expression
Of life's unfailing power.

—M. E. Baker.

The Gift Of Good Words

Mary Quayle Innis has it in large measure, as readers of her book "Stand On A Rainbow," will find to their delight. Mrs. Innis is an artist, and a discriminating one, in words. What delicate, yet brilliant tints they take on as she manipulates them.

Just a Canadian home, a husband, three children, — and a dog. Sounds pretty humdrum, not the stuff that books are made of, but wait till you read it. Mrs. Quayle, who is also gifted with eyes that see, ears that hear, and a heart that understands, has succeeded in making a delightful book, with thrills, excitement and humour on every page; and it's just the story of a year in the life of a Canadian family. Not once does Mrs. Quayle have to stoop to vulgarity to put her story across.

Get it for yourself, read it, and lend it to your neighbours. You'll love it, — so will they.

Serious Shortage

We've used all our honey pails and coffee tins for salvage grease, so what to do now?

With both coffee and honey bought by the coupon's worth, it stands to reason that once the stock of cans on hand was exhausted there wouldn't be any more. Some of us are holding back a few that we like to bake those special little puddings, cakes, and fancy breads. We can't let them go. For instance, there are the three honey pails for Christmas puddings that sit nicely in the big steamer, and the six baking powder tins for nut or Boston brown bread, and the four coffee tins for cake.

Come to think of it, and seeing we won't be doing so much baking this Christmas on account of raisins and currants being so scarce, perhaps we can sort out some of those pet cans to help win the war. Besides by the time another Christmas rolls around there will likely be lots of coffee cans and honey pails.

So the shortage is temporarily overcome, — but only temporarily.

Bequest

"Dear Jane," the letter ran, "you'll find herein the Afghan I willed to you, my next of kin; Two yards of woven wool, a square for each. For times when knitting helped things more than speech! I drove the buggy up to town for yarn When summer lightning struck and burned the barn; And started knitting squares those nights I found That Nate was squiring city girls around. One whole row's the year when constant rain Spoiled all our crops and flattened standing grain. 'Twas comforting to work that centre square The day a spavin lamed our sorrel mare; And when our first-born, Andrew, ran away, I knit together things I could not say. The corner piece I finished up and tied The night I sat alone when Ty had died. It's something, though, I wanted you to keep: My record of the times I did not weep. You'll find it long on warmth, but short on looks! With love, your Great-Aunt Temperance Estabrooks."

—Dorothy H. Hughes, in Farmer's Magazine.

Searchlight Girls Go Into Action

Searchlight batteries operated entirely by British A.T.S. women have been praised for their skill and efficiency during enemy raids over Britain. Picture shows: One of the A.T.S. ## I.O. D.E.

The business meeting of Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, I. O. D. E. will meet in the chapter rooms on Monday, November 29th at 2.45 p.m. All members are requested to attend as important business will be discussed.

The attention of each member of Lincoln Loyalist Chapter is called to a series of 23 broadcasts on "Of Things to Come," undertaken by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, dealing with reconstruction in its various phases, for which you are asked to form "listening groups" similar to a citizen's forum.

It is suggested that the groups meet to listen to the broadcast, then break up into smaller groups to discuss it, make suggestions, offer criticisms, and prepare questions on the information given by the speaker. These small groups will then come together to compile a combined report two copies of which will be sent to your Provincial Convener, through the channels of the Order.

Groups should by no means be confined to members of the Order, the opinions of all will be of value. Two of the Introductory Broadcasts have already been given: "The World We Live In" - "The promises, the hopes, the longings for a better world," and "The State of the Nation" - "We have done it in wartime, why can't we organize for peace?" The third, "We Have to Know Why" - "The questions people are asking" is the one we are to listen to on November 30th.

Remember the date and time - Tuesday evenings, beginning Nov. 30th from 8.30 to 9.00

High School Auditorium, Dec. 9th

Grimsby Red Cross

At the November business meeting of Grimsby and District Red Cross committee, held in the Red Cross Room on Tuesday afternoon, the treasurer was authorized to send a cheque for $400.00 to the Prisoners of War Fund of the Red Cross, which is the sum allotted to Grimsby by Headquarters for this purpose.

Stars Are A Test Of Your Vision

(Contributed)

For ages the Arabs have used one star as a test of vision for their young men. This important star is in the constellation "Ursa Major," known on this continent as The Dipper, a splendid test of one's eyesight during the winter months. At present the Dipper is rather low in the sky, but later will swing higher over head, and so can be seen through a less dense atmosphere.

There are seven prominent stars in this group, and might not be a bad quiz compared to some. Don't use any artificial aid; choose a calm, clear night.

Venus continues to be a brilliant morning star, high in the sky at sunrise.

Stars twinkle in the sky because they are shining with their own light. On the other hand planets shine with reflected light from the sun, and therefore give a steady light and so are easily picked out amongst the stars.

Prominent in the sky is a constellation in the shape of a V on its side. Turn to the east and find ruddy Mars. There to the right of Mars you will see the faint outline of the constellation called Taurus, the Bull. It contains a prominent star named Aldebaran, whose light is 23 times that of the sun.

Card of Thanks

Mr. Herbert Smith and family wish to thank their friends and neighbours for their many kind expressions of sympathy and condolence, and for the beautiful floral remembrances during their recent bereavement.

JUST A LOT OF BIRD SEED ON THE SCYAMORE TREE

Last week we put forth the argument that this bowling game that Whizzer Kamnacher introduced into our midst, was the cause of goofiness among our best citizens. Here is proof positive of it. A week ago Tuesday Old Man McBrice bowled the tremendous score of 216. He was pretty proud of that tally. Last Thursday night he took The Independent, a lead pencil, a sheet of paper and two good hours of time and came up with the following disturbing statistics. He found that last week in the Men's Bowling league 300 games were played. He next found that only 82 games were better than 216. On that basis he figures that he sits into 53rd place and is thus 247 ahead of the tail-end. Goofy? No, just queer. . . . Our Little Mary Irvine and her Vaillant team are sure battling for top honors in the Peach Queens' league. They trimmed up Corinne Robertson and her Victory ladies two-one but the wise boys figured that Vaillants would not be so vaillant when they hit the Mayflower outfit. They met on Friday night. Here is the result: Vaillants—855, 749, 728—2332; Mayflowers—799, 748, 747—2294. Note that second game that the Vaillants only won by one point. On the three games they only beat Madeline Lambert and her sisters by 39 points. Mighty even bowling, say we. This leaves the Victory and Vaillant teams tied with 24 points apiece for the leadership. . . . Corinne Robertson is somewhat off her bowling. While she still has the high average she has dropped to 194. Three weeks ago she had an average of 212. As a matter of fact the whole Victory team seem to be off their feed. . . . Hear about the Little Whizzer. Had to turn pin-boy the other day and that means work. But it was a change anyway. He made a new record for the Bowlaway, setting up 30 games in 10 minutes. . . . All is quiet in the Men's Bowling League, Ollie Shaw has a frog in his throat.

Grimsby's Sporting Patriarch

WILLIAM J. SCHWAB, despite his years, is still the youngest and keenest sport follower in the Fruit Belt today. He will give any young fellow in town a terrible argument for 30 yards. In his younger days he and Dave Fisher took part in athletic meets all over Ontario competing in the 100 and 220 yard dashes with no little success. Was a member of the famous Grimsby Hook and Ladder running team that held the championship of Ontario and Western New York for many years, back in the Gay Nineties. Was a baseball and softball player for years unnumbered and then he took up lawn bowling. The four bowls on the ground in the above picture he won as a prize the year that he and the late George E. McConachie won the much coveted Globe Scotch Doubles. The large trophy is the Frank E. Laker Cup, the largest sporting trophy in Canada, which the Brock Snyder rink won at Dunnville last summer, Bill being a member of the rink. He is a veteran of the last war and on his breast are three sets of medals. The Fennian Raid medals of his late father Frederick Schwab, the posthumously awarded 1914-15 medals of his son William J., Jr., who was killed on the Somme in 1916 and his own 1914-15 medals. His sporting activities at present are confined to five-pin bowling with the Peach Kings team, but he is willing and ready on a moment's notice to take a whirl at any other kind of game that you want to bring along. Age? Well, how old was Ann?

From Page One

usual half holiday for overworked purveyors and publicists.

George Popolopolopolos, busy playing his brushes, was carrying on simultaneously, a conversation with a distinguished looking customer who, absentmindedly, was answering in a slow, droll, drawl that seemed familiar to the Bowmanville girl. She thought, "Where have I heard that voice before?" and then she had it. She had never before seen the man nor his picture, but she had listened many times when the radio drew honey homilies at 10.05 a.m. Sunday mornings while thousands listened and chuckled over the "Neighbourly News" program.

So, boldly she asked: "Aren't you Andy Clark?" And sure enough it was none other. It was almost old-home-week for Andy who told of the good times and many faces he remembered on his several trips to town. And he said: "Tell George James this is surely one for The Statesman." And so it was and here it is. Police might get inspiration in this coincidence. When Bertillon falls and fingerprints are obliterated and photos blur at the hands of time, they can get their man by listening to voices in shoe shine parlors.

STILL TALK ABOUT

Our friend Vance Farrell is stationed only two miles from me, I was over for an hour or so the other day and we had quite a chat talking over old times and the hockey games played by the Peach Kings.

Fred Woodcock, who was in the Dieppe show and was taken prisoner has returned from Germany to England, but I regret to say that he has lost his sight, but the Medical Specialists here have hopes of being able to restore at least 60% of the sight. He is very cheerful in spite of his injuries and all he has gone through, and cannot give too much praise to the Canadian Red Cross for the parcels and clothing that he received from them while a prisoner. He has expressed a wish to go to a Theatre and see a show so I am taking him up this week end to see "Lisbon Story" playing at the Hippodrome in London.

Frank Shoebridge is also stationed nearby, he is Officer Commanding a Camp Laundry, operated by the Canadian Women's Army Corps, but every time that I have tried to get him on the telephone, he has been out of his office.

May I extend the Season's Greetings to you and yours, and again thanking you for your thoughtfulness in sending me the Independent.

Yours very sincerely,
Art Biggar.

CIGARETTES WERE

this finds all well with you. Thanks again.

H. F. MacMiller.

Received cigarettes. Thanks a million they were very much appreciated.

Spr. Duffield.

Cigarettes arrived safely and truly appreciated. Please convey my thanks to the Grimsby Chamber of Commerce.

Sincerely,
Barry Bourne.

I wish to thank you very much for the smokes that I just received.

Spr. John House.

Thanks very much for the cigarettes. They are quite a nice parcel to receive any time and are always welcome.

Yours truly,
Sgt. Hurst.

Received another carton of cigarettes from you this morning, and thanks a lot.

Please pass on my thanks to all members of your organization, you're certainly doing a swell job, and we over here really appreciate it.

Sincerely,
Johnny Farrell.

Once again I have the pleasure of receiving cigarettes from the Chamber of Commerce.

Between the Independent and the cigarettes I don't know which I get the most pleasure from. I guess it is fifty fifty.

The weather is grand here just right for training, and we are looking forward to the time we too can take a hand at this invasion business.

Many thanks for the fags, and keep up the good work. Sorry I can't write a long letter as we are busy boys at the present time.

Yours truly,
David A. Copeland.

Thanks very much for cigarettes just received. You must have a special boat for your cigarettes because they always arrive O.K. and have never failed yet.

We are very busy training and as a result should be in pretty fair shape for the "finale."

Thanking you again and wishing you all the best.

Norm Jones.

Well, here I am again with a letter of thanks for the three hundred cigarettes I received from you back in Grimsby. That certainly is a treat.

We have been over here for over six months. I am having a grand time over here but I'm just like the rest of the Canadians over here. We are just waiting for the day we can get back home.

I will sign off now. Thanks a million for the cigarettes I received.

Yours truly,
Don Walker.

Received cigarettes today, thanks a million. They came as an anniversary gift, as it was just three years ago today that we docked. Lot of water gone under the bridge since then and I will say things look much brighter over here now in what they did then. The boys from Town that came over at that time are all over the place now and about the only time one runs into them is in London. For the size of that place it is surprising how many people one meets that he knows.

The cigarettes came at good time. Everyone around here was out of smokes so they rather eased the strain somewhat. Cigarettes have been very slow in coming through, but guess the shipping space is needed for much bigger and better things than cigs.

Thanks again and keep up the good work.

Luck.

Sgt. Lionel Lymburner.

I wish very much to express my many thanks to you for the 300 smokes which I have just received. I am very grateful to you and all who made it possible for me to receive them.

Yours sincerely,
Pte. A. D. Twocock.

The Soldier's Saying, "Cigarettes are always most welcome," took on an added significance when this parcel of 300 smokes arrived a few hours before we started rolling on what might have been "the Real thing." It meant that the boys in the hut were no longer fidgetty and restless—a good smoke all round, the comforting knowledge that fresh smokes were on hand for the trying moments of waiting—these facts add up to a special word of thanks to our Grimsby friends.

Sincerely, grateful,
Sgt. G. Taylor-Munro.

Thanks a million for cigarettes as they are very short over here and hope all is well in Grimsby.

Thanking you,
S/Sgt. H. Slade.

Guides Governor General

WALTER NIXON, veteran "mountain man", Canadian Rockies guide and rancher, guided the Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice on their hunting trip through the East Kootenay area during which the Governor General brought down a large mountain goat.

Originally from Ontario, Guide Nixon has ranched in the Upper Columbia Valley, B.C., for almost forty years; has been a game warden in that area and in the Kootenay River and Leacholl districts.

In addition, he was one of the founders and charter members of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, an organization now world-famous, and one which has brought great happiness to hundreds of lovers of the Great Outdoors.

National Salvage Committee Is Appreciative

Much Pleased With Statement Presented By Local Salvage Committee — Keep Up Good Work.

Jan. A. Wray, chairman of the local Salvage Committee is in receipt of the following letter:

Dear Mr. Wray:—
The Division has had brought to its attention your recent "Salvage Statement" as to the operations of the Grimsby United Salvage Committee and I should like to extend to you the heartiest congratulations of the Division thereon.

The record of your Committee, showing receipts of $2,400 and expenses of only $158, is a most impressive one and one of which Grimsby citizens should be very proud.

The Division was most favorably impressed with the businesslike manner in which your Statement was prepared, giving the Grimsby Public full details of your operations, financial and otherwise.

The explanatory notes on the Statement showed humour, initiative and patriotic appeal of a high order.

Kindly extend to your Committee the warmest thanks of the Salvage Division for the altogether effective and splendid job of war work in the collection of war salvage materials which your Committee and the Grimsby Public are carrying on.

Yours sincerely,
Charles LaForte,
Director.

Navy League News

On Saturday last we despatched to Headquarters, Toronto, a further 25 Ditty Bags, a total of 332 bags to date. Of these 25 bags, 10 were a further gift from our good friends, the White Elephant Shop. Also 10 more cartons of magazines were sent forward; and the following knitted woolen comforts: 5 turtle neck sweaters; 10 square neck sweaters; 2 pairs wristlets; 1 scarf; 2 pair mitts; 2 helmets; 9 caps; 1 tuck-in; 15 pairs sea-boot stockings; 14 pairs socks; and 5 pairs string mitts. A total of 67 articles. Everything is urgently needed now the winter is with us.

A touching incident: In a big city there is a hospital for incurable sick children, often in great pain. Yet, out of their own little allowance of pocket money, they clubbed together and bought or made the useful and needed articles to fill six ditty bags for 6 lucky sailors this Christmas. It was just spontaneous!

FRUIT GROWERS AND CITIZENS OF GRIMSBY

There is a shortage of help for the manufacture of fruit baskets. This appeal is being made to men and women who may be able to help out in basket making. Men are also needed to cut and handle logs and balsa.

A meeting to discuss the situation and arrange for suitable help is being held as follows:

MASONIC HALL, GRIMSBY
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 25th
2:30 p.m.

Your co-operation would be appreciated. Plan to be in attendance.

Representatives of the Dominion Selective Service Board, Toronto, will be present to outline details of the plan.

Nominations For Legion Offices

With election of officers for the ensuing year to take place in two weeks, members of West Lincoln Branch, Canadian Legion, last Wednesday night nominated the following:

For president, L. A. Brownley; first vice-president, Edward Rooker, Grimsby; Fred Jewson, Grimsby Beach; and W. G. Henderson, Smithville; second vice-president, George Shepherd and J. H. Dawe, of Beamsville; and W. G. Henderson, Smithville; secretary, George Wheeler; treasurer, William Lothian; chaplain, Rev. George Taylor-Munro; guards, William Schwab and Charles Mason, sen.

Nominations will be held open at the next meeting prior to the vote.

Ten Ton Of Rags Go Up In Smoke

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed most of a ten-ton truck load of waste rags on the Queen Elizabeth Way, at the Grimsby Beach subway, Friday evening. The big truck, owned by Revson & Tomarin, St. Catharines, was eastbound.

Grimsby firemen, under Fire Chief Alfred LePage, responded to a call ad worked for over three hours before the fire was finally out. By their quick work they saved the truck from damage and also salvaged part of the load.

Constable A. E. Reilly, assisted by Constable George Seymour, of Beamsville, detoured traffic around the fire for three hours. The rags were baled in 600-pound bundles and the firemen had a real job in getting them off the truck.

Second-hand information is usually always soiled.

Boy Scouts

FIRST GRIMSBY TROOP

It was very pleasing to the Boys of the troop to have their parents present at their regular Monday night's meeting. Approximately 35 parents were present to watch the boys in Scouting.

The Boy Scouts Committee, V. Catton, M. Zimmerman and W. Greig arranged for refreshments to be served to the parents and boys at the close of the meeting. Badges and registration cards were presented to the scouts.

Much enjoyment was given the parents in watching the boys build a bridge and putting it into operation, also... they were engaged in a game of stalking. Scouts were blindfolded in this game and they were required to crawl on hands and knees through a field of obstructions without making any noise. The hairs on the heads of scouts J. Pasche and L. Linden-smith were bristling when Mrs. M. Zimmerman laid her fox fur on the floor in front of these scouts as they approached the finish line. As they were inspecting this obstruction—a light-pinch added to the reality of the fox.

Visiting the troop at this meeting was past Scoutmaster L. Brownley and Scoutmaster G. Mote who is now forming the cub pack in Grimsby. The Group Committee along with the officers of the Grimsby scouts wish to thank the parents for their interest in their work among the boys and hope that they will again join us on the parent's night to be held in February.

CUBBING

At last Friday's meeting—the Pack gathered around the Totem Pole and the Grand Howl was led by Peter Phelps. This Howl is a welcome to the Cub master who is called Akela, the old wolf. Five juv. Merritt Anderson, Allen Bentley, Clifford Schwab, Gary Knott and Peter Phelps were successful in passing their Tenderpad Test and were invested as Wolf Cubs by Cub Master Cyril Mote. These boys are now entitled to wear their neckerchiefs, hats and the wolf cub badge. During the afternoon instruction was given in One Star Tests and at the closing ceremony the Moose Howl was led by Merritt Anderson.

Price Increase On Export Bacon

An increase of 75 cents per hundred pounds on all bacon for export to the United Kingdom, effective Monday, November 15th, was announced November 12th by the Meat Board. The new price schedule increased the price for A Grade No. 1 Sides (55-65 lb.) Wiltshire sides from $21.95 to $22.70 per 100 lb. at Canadian sea-board with corresponding increases in price for other grades, weights and selections of Wiltshire and export cuts and becomes applicable on all products put into cure from hogs slaughtered on and after November 15th.

On October 22nd last, Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced that a new bacon agreement was being negotiated with the British Ministry of Food for a two-year period, 1944-45, based on an increase of 75 cents per 100 lb. for A Grade bacon, over the price provided in the present agreement.

The Meat Board states, however, that any price increase provided for in a new agreement would not apply on shipments to the United Kingdom until the present contract of 675 million pounds of bacon is completed, but the Board is now able to increase the price to the level proposed in the new agreement from savings accumulated during operations under the present contract to date.

It is estimated that the increase in the price paid for export bacon should raise hog prices by approximately 50 cents per hundred pounds warm dressed weight and will accordingly raise the price level for all hogs marketed. Hog producers will, therefore, secure, as from November 15th, the full advantage of the anticipated increase in price under the new agreement notwithstanding the fact that a considerable quantity of bacon still has to be purchased to complete the present agreement.

Miles and miles of cloth, but no turned-up cuffs for today's trousers. Clothing material is destined for a much more important job, which is one reason why every Canadian should be "clothes conscious" and conserve present materials. In the picture above, while a cutter slices through one layer of material and turns out stacks of pieces for army combination overalls, workers at the right are busy preparing another layer of the same material. The Department of Munitions and Supply pointed out recently that Canada is now making army battle dress at the rate of 2,500,000 units a year. The cloth required to make this number of battle dress uniforms, if laid down as a carpet 54 inches wide, would extend from Halifax to Victoria and back to Calgary, Alberta.
